U. S. THE WORKSHOP OF DEATH
MOCKS IN ASKING A SQUARE DEAL

(By Associated Press.)

BERLIN, Mar. 9.—(Wireless to Sayville.)—Under the heading of "Fair Dealing," the semi-official Nord Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung, publishes an editorial, which says:

"One phrase in President Wilson's inaugural address strikes us. It relates to fair dealing and asserts that, as America desires it for herself, so she is ready to claim for all mankind, fair dealing, justice, the freedom to live, and protection against organized wrong. That which President Wilson is ready to claim for all humanity he never considers as the right of Germany."

"Our whole policy towards America has been a struggle for fair dealing, justice, freedom to live, and defense against organized wrong coming from a nation which was forced by our envious adversaries to fight. What was it that ached from across the water? Hardly had the world's conflagration, which was intended to complete by force the destruction of Germany, been kindled when the voice of the organized press assiduously endeavored to arouse public opinion in the United States against us. President Wilson's government looked placidly on while England gradually abolished the established laws governing the use of the seas."

"But this was not enough. The same government which had accepted without any resistance the interruption of the whole trade of America with us and our neutral neighbor states, issued protest after protest as soon as we began to repay England in identical fashion. This, although the United States was well aware of the fact that England intended nothing else, with her brutal disregard of neutral rights than slowly to undermine, by a war of starvation against women and children, our forces which he had not succeeded in breaking by violence of arms."

President Wilson claims for humanity the freedom to live. Only to the German people does he deny the claim to that right. At the same time the entire Union was transformed into one huge factory for the manufacture of arms and munitions. Not only existing plants enlarged, but others, which in times of peace produced goods destined for peaceful uses, were transformed in order to produce war material for Germany's enemies. The tire industry of a people who were unaffected by the horrors of the distant European war, was transformed into an enormous workshop for death."

"And while the United States government confirms this conception of neutrality, it demands from us responsibility for the lives and safety of every one of its citizens, who, in spite of our urgent warning, invade the war zone at sea."

WILL MAKE TONOPAH
MORE HEALTHFUL TOWN

Dr. J. R. Masterson, the new county physician and ex-officio health officer for the town of Tonopah, has launched forth on a vigorous campaign for the cleansing of the city. He is directing his attention along three particular lines, one for restraining the spread of certain infectious diseases, another for destroying breeding places for flies and a third the rendering of out-houses more nearly sanitary. Notices have been served upon business men and householders relative to the depositing of refuse. The ordinance forbidding spitting on the sidewalks and in public places will also be enforced more strictly.

The North Star continues to make a very creditable showing. There are two good exposures of ore on the 1050 level and on the 1135 a slope has been started on two feet of good ore. The ore house samples range from $31.85 to $43.80. The gold content is considerably above the average for the district.

FAVORABLE OUTLOOK IN THE NEW OHIO SHAFT

It is thought that the recent flurry in the stock of the West End Co. was probably due to certain favorable indications which, it is learned, have been recently encountered in some of the prospecting work now being carried on in the Ohio ground of that company. It is understood that bunches of quartz are being encountered showing some values and that the conditions generally point to the possibility of this work being in the vicinity of a vein. The managements would give out no definite information, apparently preferring to await developments rather than to indulge in prophecy. As the Ohio ground lies far to the west of any known veins in West End territory and beyond the eruptive material that terminated the west extension work on the main West End vein it will be seen that any discovery that may materialize in that section of virgin ground would have great possibilities.

AMUSEMENTS

BUTLER THEATER

The feature tonight at the Butler is a Fox production entitled "The Island of Desire." It is a story of the South Seas. The picture is a knockout; it is conceded by its makers to be the best of the year. In this production a real star plays the leading role. His name is George Walsh. Do you not remember him in "Blue Blood and Red," "The Beast," and "The Mediator?" Every time you see his name in the cast, you are sure of seeing something worth while. Colorful, gripping, filled with thrilling interest and exciting romance and adventure, "The Island of Desire" is destined to be the biggest motion picture sensation of the season. No expense has been spared by the producer in making this feature a spectacle of unusual proportions. A story which engrosses from its very outset, has been admirably interpreted by an excellent cast of actors, headed by George Walsh and Margaret Gibson.

The result is a film worthy of unstinted praise, and one that should be seen by all. And we have another feature today. It is a brand new one—the first of the Fox comedies, in two reels. Its name is "Social Pirates," and if these Fox comedies compare favorably with the Fox dramas, we will have a program that is sure to please the most exacting audience. It is a brand new one. Tomorrow, another seven-reel program: Mme. Petrova, in "Extravagance," and a snappy two-reel comedy "He Shot His Arm Out." Sunday "Pearl of the Army" and Mae Murray in "The Big Sister."

LIBERTY THEATER

Two big features, Helen Holmes in "The Lass of the Lumberlands," chapter 8, entitled "The Fight at Camp One." This serial is proving to be very interesting and exciting and should be seen by all. We also play Franklin Farnum, a brother of William and Dustin Farnum, in a five-reel Bluebird production "Love Never Dies."

Mendelssohn's "Spring Song," a classic destined to live while music lasts, has been the inspiration for many artistic achievements—and now it is turned to good account by Bluebird Photoplays as the basis of "Love Never Dies," the attraction at the Liberty tonight, in which Ruth Stonehouse will be the star, with Franklin Farnum, her leading man. The picture illustrates a love
